

RETENTION

Salary is the floor, not the anchor.

How to keep good people without relying on a raise.

AND THE CONSEQUENCE

What holds someone is growth, impact, autonomy and the relationship with whoever leads.

THE CASCADE

The counteroffer cycle.

WHAT YOU SEE

The person shows up with an offer in hand...

THE MECHANISM

...you match the number so you do not lose her now...

THE CONSEQUENCE

...and she leaves eight months later, for the same reason as before.

A counteroffer buys time, it never buys the will to stay.

THE FORK

Why this person is here today.

WHY SHE IS HERE

01

If the answer is only the paycheck, that is a mercenary.

02

If you cannot answer, that is luck.

03

If you name a reason specific to her, that is retention.

Retention starts with knowing the name of each person's anchor.

THE METHOD

The four anchors of the people who stay.

01 GROWTH

she is getting better, and sees room to walk here

02 IMPACT

she sees where her work actually changes something

03 AUTONOMY

she decides inside a clear limit, without asking permission constantly

04 RELATIONSHIP

she trusts whoever leads, and that beats any speech

Two weak anchors already explain the exit before it happens.

WHAT TO ASK, IN ORDER

Four questions before the resignation letter.

01 • GROWTH

What would make you accept an offer today?

the answer is your risk map, person by person

02 • IMPACT

What makes you stay?

shows which anchor is holding, and what must not break

03 • AUTONOMY

What do you want to learn in the next six months?

ties staying to concrete growth, not to a promise

04 •
RELATIONSHIP

What annoys you most in the routine here?

it is usually something small you can fix that same week

TWO MODELS

Holding with money or with roots.

THE COMMON MODEL

Holding with money

Reacts to the outside offer

Treats everyone the same

Talks about package and benefits

Postpones the exit by a few months

THE DESIGNED MODEL

Growing roots

Talks before any offer exists

Knows each person's anchor

Talks about challenge and path

Makes the person want to stay

MISTAKE AND CONSEQUENCE

Three things that make the best one leave.

01 Living with low performance and no consequence.

→ whoever carries the team burns out before whoever delivers little.

02 Repeating the same kind of challenge for two years.

→ good people leave out of boredom, not out of money.

03 Promising growth with no timeline and no criteria.

→ a vague promise works once, after that it is disbelief.

The best professional usually leaves over what you tolerated, not what you offered.

THE CHAIN

The counteroffer test.

01

A recruiter calls your best person today.

02

Do you know the reason she would say no?

03

If you do not, you do not have retention, you have luck.

WHERE LEADERSHIP STEPS IN

List the team and write each person's anchor. The gaps are alarming.

RUN IT THIS WAY NEXT TIME

Thirty minutes per person, once every six months.

▣ STEP 01 List the team and write each person's anchor. whoever has no clear anchor gets the conversation this week	▣ STEP 02 Run the stay conversation with your two key people. no review agenda, no form, just the four questions	■ STEP 03 Fix the small annoyance that comes up. fixing it fast proves the conversation was not theater
---	--	---

|

Whoever asks before the resignation letter still has something to negotiate.

THE MODEL THAT STICKS

The Four Anchors, a loop and not a list.

Nobody stays for a raise. They stay for a reason.

SAVE THIS FOR LATER

in the next conversation with someone you do not want to lose.

FABIO GARCIA

MANAGEMENT AS ENGINEERING
/IN/FALERCIA